DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Frederick.

Frederick discloses an attachment clip for attaching a first member to a second member wherein the clip includes a body with a plurality of engagement claws 11, 12, 13, 14 formed around a shank hole (that receives the shank of a threaded bolt) and the claws depart from the body in a general axial direction and form a basically cone shaped configuration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Frederick.

As stated above, Frederick discloses the clip used to attach a first member and a second member. Both attached members are panels or plates.

Art Unit: 3677

It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have used the Frederick clip to attach a heat shield plate to a panel on a vehicle. This is one of many obvious potential uses of a clip of this type and as stated it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to have used this clip for this specific use.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The references to Fisher, Hotchkin and Morehouse disclose related fastener structures and are cited to further show the state of the art.
